Lee & Tiffany Lakosky

In an incredibly short amount of time, Lee and Tiffany Lakosky have become two of the hottest outdoor celebrities in the country. Their meteoric rise is due in part to a combination of magazine-cover looks, prostaffer hunting skills and a tireless work ethic and devotion to their fan base. The duo's skills and popularity have led to appearances in dozens of high-profile publications and a full schedule of celebrity and trade events.

Their joint success in the outdoor industry can also be attributed to an infectious, obvious love for what they do. "We absolutely love our time in the woods," explains Tiffany. "It's something that we do day after day. If we are not practicing with our bows, we are managing food plots, scouting for good stand set-ups and just spending time outdoors together."

When not gracing the covers of countless catalogs, producing compelling outdoor television or writing articles for leading publications and websites, the Minneapolis-raised, Iowa-residing couple manage their farm for world-class whitetails. Lee and Tiffany bring a combination of their youthful energy and the uncanny ability to bring down monster bucks to Outdoor Channel. In addition to their show, The Crush with Lee and Tiffany, they can also be seen in Whitetail Freaks on America's Leader in Outdoor TV.

Roger Raglin

Has taken over 100 bucks that score 130 B&C points or better including a 220 inch giant!

It isn't hard to figure out how Roger has come to be affectionately known as, 'America's Whitetail Deer Hunter'. His big buck collection is recognized industry wide - by those in the know- as being the best group of bucks taken by a single hunter anywhere in the world. The whitetail section of Roger's trophy room, or better known as 'THE WALL', now contains over 100 trophy bucks. The 70 shoulder mounts average a phenomenal 150 Boone & Crockett points! That is incredible in itself.
